OLD WORLD RED WINES

BORDEAUX—Bordeaux's moderate maritime climate is ideal for wine grapes. From the gravel embankments of Pauillac, to the clay and limestone of Pomerol, Bordeaux's many villages produce aromatic and powerful blends of Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot, and Cabernet Franc. There is a reason why wine producers world-wide are in love with the "Bordeaux blend."

SAINT-ESTÈPHE—These are the most dense, most tannic Cabernet based wines of Bordeaux. Not for the faint of heart.

504 Château Cos d'Estournel, 02	195.
505 Château De Pez, 05	89.
506 Château Haut Beausejour, 07	49.

PAUILLAC—Three of the five famed "First Growth" wines of Bordeaux come from this small country village. Pauillac has power like St. Estephe, but also some of the perfumes that make Margaux famous.

509 Reserve de la Comtesse, 05	125.
510 Château Pibran, 08	78.

SAINT-ÉMILION—Merlot, but unlike any you've tasted before—more powerful, more age-worthy, but also more perfumed.

528 Château Cheval Blanc, 78	424.
531 Château Magdelaine, 89	228.
532 Château Monbousquet, 06	125.
533 Château Gracia, Grand Cru, 01	295.

GRAVES & PESSAC-LEOGNAN—Like Pauillac, these wines are grown on gravel beds hundreds of feet deep. The resulting wine is firm, but medium-bodied with aromas of cedar and sweet.

538 Château Haut Brion, 01	252.
539 Château Carbonnieux, Grand Cru, 05	82.

MARGAUX—The most fragrant Cabernets in the world come from here!

546 Château du Tertre, 05	115.
547 Château Paveil de Luze, 06	55.
548 Clos Du Jaugueyron, 06	50.

LOIRE VALLEY -The reds of the Loire are typically made from Cabernet Franc. They are lighter, silkier, brighter in acid, and more deeply perfumed than the Cabernets of Bordeaux. Elegant and not to be missed

551 Chinon, Marc Brédif, 08 42.

BURGUNDY—Pinot Noir from this narrow stretch of Eastern France is so special that the royal family long ago banished all other red grapes from the region. Good Burgundy combines bright, red cherry fruit with intense aromatics like cardamom and cloves or rich, truffle-like earth.

553 Gevrey-Chambertin, Joseph Faiveley, 08 85.

556 Bourgogne Rouge, Maison Ambroise, 08 47.

558 Pommard, Louis Jadot, 06 79.

BEAUJOLAIS—Just South of Burgundy's renowned "Golden Slope," the granite hills of Beaujolais make a somewhat humbler, but friendlier wine. Bright fruit, supple texture, with soft, easy tannins.

565 Morgon, Joseph Drouhin, 07 42.

566 Beaujolais, Moulin-à-Vent, Joseph Drouhin, 07 46.

RHONE & PROVENCE—The hills of Southern France are the home of Syrah and its silkier sibling, Grenache. Sometimes, the rare but ruggedly powerful Mourvedre grape enters into the blend adding fire and inky depth to the blend. See why Rhone wines are the hottest category in French wine!

572 Côte Du Rhône, "Saint Esprit", Dalas, 09 37.

574 Côte-Rôtie "Brune et Blonde," E. Guigal, 07 101.

575 Châteauneuf du Pape, "Exceptionelle", Dom. du Vieux Lazaret, 07 ... 80.

576 Châteauneuf du Pape, "Les Sinards", Perrin & Fils, 07 76.

SPAIN—Every wine critic on the planet will tell you Spain is "hot" right now. Why? Because Spain has the lowest average yields in the world (about 1/3rd those of Napa), meaning extra depth and concentration. Combine that with many old-vines, distinctive local varietals, and great prices and you get the picture.

600 Navarra, Artazuri, Garnacha, 09 28.

601 Bierzo, Pittacum, Mencía, 06 45.

602 Priorat, Capafons-Osso, "Sirsell", 05 41.

603 Rioja, Faustino VII, 09 35.

604 Rioja "Reserva," Marqués de Cáceres, 05 59.

605 Rioja "Reserva," Bodegas Roda, 04 70.

606 Rioja, "Old Vine, "Unfiltered", Remirez de Ganuza, 04 130.

607 Rioja, Marqués de Cáceres, Crianza, 07 41.

608 Gran Coronas, "Reserva", Torres, 06 44.

TUSCAN—Italy's beloved Tuscany region is the home of the Sangiovese grape, which, by law, can only be grown on hill-sides, not valley floors. Thankfully, there are many hills in Tuscany.

621 Carmignano, Capezzana, 04 51.

622 Chianti Classico, Castello di Bossi, 06 48.

623 Chianti Classico, Castello di Brolio, 03 84.

632 Brunello di Montalcino, "Greppone Mazzi", Ruffino, 04 105.

633 Brunello di Montalcino, Castello Banfi, 05 100.

NORTHERN ITALY—Piedmont, centered around Turin in Italy's Northwest, is the home of the legendary wines of Barolo and Barbaresco. Whereas, the Veneto region on Italy's Northeast produces massive Amarones and rich Merlots.

640 Amarone della Valpolicella, Tedeschi, 06	83.
641 Barbaresco, Pertinace, 06	75.
642 Barolo, Pio Cesare, 07	105.
644 Valpolicella, "Ripassa", Zenato, 07	43.
645 Gattinara, Torracchia del Plantavigna, 05	67.
646 Primitivo, Poggio Basso, Puglia, 10	45.

SOUTHERN ITALY—The Greeks once called the land South of Rome "Oenotria" or "The Land of the Vine" because it was so well suited to grape-growing. Today, these warm Southern zones are bringing down yields to focus on quality and reclaim the region's historic reputation for fine wine.

650 Aglianico "Contado," Di Majo Norante, Molise, 05	40.
651 Nero D'Avola, Torresella, Sicily, 07	34.
652 Primitivo, Poggio Basso, Puglia, 10	38.

NEW WORLD RED WINES

PINOT NOIR—Pinot is famously difficult to farm and prefers cool, foggy climates to direct sun. For this reason it does best in places like Sonoma's Russian River Valley and Santa Barbara's cool valleys. Oregon has built its reputation on the grape and New Zealand shows the same promise.

SYRAH, SHIRAZ, & RHONE BLENDS—While the Australians like to give the grape a colorful name, Syrah and Shiraz are two names for the same thing. The classic Australian style shows maximum ripeness and a plush, mouth-coating texture. Cooler climates, such as Santa Barbara, show off more of the grape's pepper and complex aromatics.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON—Bold, distinctive, even regal, Cabernet's black current and smoky cherry flavors are savored around the world. California, especially Napa Valley, produces many of the world's best Cabernets. But even within Napa there are major distinctions in style from place to place. Typically Cabernets grown on the valley floor appellations like Rutherford show brighter red cherry fruit, and a smooth "fine grained" texture. The most powerful Cabernets, however, are grown on the rocky hillsides in places such as Howell Mountain or Mount Veeder. To showcase this great diversity of style we have also selected a few notable Cabernets from Chile, Australia, & Washington State.

MERITAGE & CABERNET BASED BLENDS—The tradition of blending Cabernet Sauvignon with Merlot and Cabernet Franc originated in Bordeaux. Purists believe that only the five grapes of Bordeaux should be used in these blends, but increasingly new grapes such as Syrah, Tempranillo, or Sangiovese are finding their way into Cabernet based blends.
