

Niki J Sands Contemporary Fine Artist

Originally from Detroit, born to Greek parents in 1960, Niki's passion for the Mediterranean is evident in many of her works, exhibiting vitality and a vivid use of color, while still maintaining a certain softness.

A self taught artist, Niki paints elusively, yet constructively with both oils and acrylics with one never knowing what to expect next from her, as she enjoys experimenting with various styles and techniques.

Niki has been living in Las Vegas since 1996 and has participated in many local art events. She has donated much of her time and talents to local charities such as Three Square Food Bank, The Red Cross for Haiti Relief, Lou Ruvo Brain Institute and many others.

Niki's art is collected throughout the United States as well as Europe and Canada.

"I believe an artist bares his/her soul when painting. I truly paint from within: my art is inseparably bound up with my personality and soul"
